

Van Wert County Impact of the 2012-13 state budget (HB 153)

Ohio's budget for 2012 and 2013 cut local government aid by a billion dollars. This means cuts in services we depend on, from road repair and emergency services to crossing guards, senior transportation and child protective services. What are the implications for Van Wert County?

The state cut the Local Government Fund to the county, forcing Van Wert County to make cuts to jurisdictions within the county. The state also cut direct funding to municipalities, and slashed reimbursements for taxes it had eliminated, taxes that businesses and utilities had paid to local governments. School districts and the public library fund were also cut. Losses in calendar years 2012 and 2013, compared to 2010 and 2011, include, among others:

- Public Library Fund - $63.0 thousand
- Schools - $3.0 million
- County operations, including Township and park LGF - $1.1 million
- Van Wert City - $220.0 thousand

Loss to health and human service levies:

- County mental health - $185.0 thousand
- County senior services - $19.0 thousand

Notes and Quotes

“The stress that typically results from divorce or separation is hard on kids. The center was able to take the drama out of those times when kids switched from one parent to the other. Without our supervised visit services, I honestly don't know how some kids will see their parents.” – Lisa McGonagle, Van Wert County Visitation Center Coordinator. Due to loss of both state and local funding, the center was forced to close on December 23rd of 2011. The center facilitated 1,237 exchanges and almost 300 supervised visits in 2011. Key findings

- Van Wert County, its jurisdictions, schools, services and levies, lost $4.6 million in the current state
- County health and human services lost $204 thousand
- Van Wert County Family Visitation Center forced to close due to lack of funding

NOTES: The current state budget cuts the Local Government Fund to counties, municipalities and townships by 25 percent in the first year and by 50 percent in the second year. This 77-year old state revenue sharing program has, for generations, been essential to helping Ohio communities fund schools, provide services, and lift people out of poverty. The current state budget also phases out most of the tangible personal property tax and public utility property tax reimbursements, which were promised to local governments when the state cut taxes in recent years. These are not the only losses to local governments because of this budget. There are others in specific programs. Here we detail some of the bigger shifts. Change in revenues shown here include:

- Local Government Fund "County Undivided Fund," which counties share with their cities, townships and villages. We show how much less money the counties are receiving under the current 2-year state budget (for 2012 and 2013) compared to the two years under the prior state budget (which was for 2010 and 2011). Here the funds are shown on a calendar year basis because that is how the tax department forecasts and records their distribution to local governments, and it is how local governments' budget (The state budget is based on the fiscal year, July 1 through June 30.)
- Local Government "Municipal Direct" allocation from the Local Government Fund that the state gives directly to localities. This is also shown in terms of funding provided in the calendar years 2012 and 2013 compared to 2010 and 2011;
- Property tax reimbursements promised to local governments during tax reductions enacted earlier in the decade. The loss of funding in calendar years 2012 and 2013 is compared to the level of funding provided in 2010 and 2011.

The figures for changes in funding levels are based on data provided by and spreadsheets online at the Ohio Department of Taxation for local government funds and tax reimbursement distributions.
